

Annotated for Study Abroad at Stellenbosch University, South Africa (Stellenbosch classes in bold)

<http://sun025.sun.ac.za/portal/page/portal/Arts/Departments/psychology/programmes>

The Psychology major requires 39 hours of Psychology coursework, a minor or 2nd major, the University General Education requirements, and demonstrated proficiency in a foreign language at the 1202 level. A minimum of 120 earned hours are required for the degree. Psychology course work in five areas is required, Research Methods/Critical Thinking Skills (12 Hours) plus Gen Ed Science, Knowledge Base (12 Hours), Application of Psychology (6 hours), Psychology Electives (6 hours), and a Capstone course (3 hours).

Research Methods/Critical Thinking Skills 3 PSYC courses, 1 Statistics course 12 hours

1101 General Psychology
 Statistics 1220, 1221, or 1222 (1222 preferred)
 2101 Research Methods I (318 Research Methods)
 2103 Research Methods II

A grade of C or better for PSYC 1101, 2101, 2103 & STATS within 2 attempts is needed to continue in the major.
 General PSYC Lab is NOT used for the PSYC major.

Course	Term	Grade	Hrs	Qpts
1101			3
STATS			3
2101			3
2103			3
Sci 1			3
Sci 2			3
Sci lab			1

Science Requirement (Only courses listed for Gen. Ed. Natural Science may be used.)

2 Natural Science courses outside Psychology (one with a lab) with a grade of C or better.
 General Psychology and/or General Psychology lab may not be used to fulfill the science requirement.
 The 2 Science courses, Science Lab, and the Statistics course will be included in the Psychology GPA.

Knowledge Base 4 courses (1 course from each area) 12 hours

Learning and Cognition (L&C)
 3111 Learning
 3116 Human Cognitive Processes
 3115 Sensation & Perception
 3216 Intro to Cognitive Science

Sociocultural Approaches (SOC)
 3114 Motivation
 3130 Social Psychology (222 Social Psychology)
 3135 Psychology of Personality (212 Approaches to Psychological Theories of the Person)

Biological Basis of Behavior (BIOL)
 3110 Comparative Psychology
 3113 Physiological Psychology
 3117 Hereditary Behavior
 3316 Cognitive Neuroscience

Developmental Changes (DEV)
 2120 Child Psychology
 2121 Adolescent Psychology
 2124 Adulthood and Aging (GRNT2124)

Course	Term	Grade	Hrs	Qpts
L & C			3
BIO			3
SOC			3
DEV			3

Knowledge Base Courses may be taken concurrently with Statistics, Research Methods I or II, and Capstone courses.
 A 2.00 GPA is required for the Knowledge Base coursework.

Application of Psychology Coursework may be from the same area 6 hours

Personal Applications (PerA)
 2150 Adjustment
 2160 Health Psychology
 3151 Abnormal Psychology (252 Psychopathology)

Social Applications (SocA)
 2155 Diversity
 3155 Community Psychology

Organizational Applications (OrgA)
 2171 Intro to Organizational PSYC
 3140 Psychological Assessment
 3172 Personnel
 3174 Organizational Psychology

Experimental Applications (ExpA)
 3405 Practicum (Internship) (3-4 hrs)
 3806 Research Assistantship (1-4 Hrs)
 3807 Peer Advising (2hrs)
 3808 Undergraduate Teaching Assistant (2-3 hrs)

Course	Term	Grade	Hrs	Qpts
			3
			3

Psychology Electives 6 hours

1000 The Science and Practice of Psychology
 2170 Career Decisions & the World of Work
 3001 Topics in Psychology
 (242 Human Development in Context)
 3002 Topics in Psychological Research
 3137 Positive Psychology
 3122 Cognitive and language Development
 3123 Social & Personality Development
 4690 Honors Thesis I
 0001 Psych Elective

3126 Psychology of Women
 3131 Forensic Psychology
 3136 Sexual behavior
 3125 Older Worker and Retirement (W)
 3152 Child Psychopathology

Course	Term	Grade	Hrs	Qpts
			3
			3

Capstone Course 1 course 3 hours

4603 History & Systems
 4606 Advanced Topics (Topic Varies)

46__ Senior Seminar (W,O)
 4691 Honors Thesis II (W,O)

Course	Term	Grade	Hrs	Qpts

UNC Charlotte Psychology: Study Abroad in South Africa!!

World-wide university partnerships offered by UNCC's Office of Education Abroad (Office of International Programs) <https://edabroad.uncc.edu/> can introduce you to locations and experiences well beyond the walls of Colvard. Studying abroad is a wonderful opportunity to engage with a different culture and benefit from the resources of another educational institution. Many institutions abroad offer excellent psychology courses, consider taking some required psychology courses and classes on topics different from those available at UNCC. Study abroad can easily fit into your academic plan by visiting the Office of Education Abroad to select an international program, meeting with your psychology advisor to decide on the best time to go and the classes to take, and consulting with the Office of Student Financial Aid <http://finaid.uncc.edu/> to make the opportunity affordable. Learn about yourself, learn about psychology, and learn about the world by participating in study abroad!

Located in an historical oak-lined university town amongst the Boland Mountains in the winelands of the Western Cape, Stellenbosch University boasts a unique campus atmosphere. The Department of Psychology at Stellenbosch, founded in 1917, is one of the oldest psychology departments in South Africa. Psychology faculty are committed to high standards of conducting research, teaching, practice, and community service. Students are encouraged to participate in the department's several community projects working diverse age groups, various ethnic populations, and addressing topics such as intimate relationships, HIV/AIDS, and program development for individuals with disabilities.

Sample Classes: Social Psychology; Approaches to Psychological Theories of the Person; Psychopathology; & Human Development in Context

